The Old Waynesborough Commission was chartered in the early 1970's with the dream of preserving the heritage of Wayne County and restoring the history of the Waynesborough settlement, site of the first county seat. This was a thriving community of over 500 residents involved with river trade and state coach travel until the railroad was built between Wilmington and Weldon in 1838.

In recent years in addition to operating a historical village, the Commission's focus has been expanded by operating a Visitors Center and creating several miles of hiking and nature trails.

Please join us in our quest to maintain the culture of Wayne County
